RE: Title II Grant Application

Board Members,

Jackson County has a participating agreement with the Greater Applegate Community Development Corporation to manage Cantrall Buckley Park.. Funding of maintenance and operations is shared between the County and the community group. One of the goals of our partnership is to plan for and make improvements in the park.

The purpose of this letter is to support the GACDC's application for funds to begin development of a park master plan. An approved plan which has had input from the local community and the County's Park and Recreation Advisory Committee is essential to the continuing operation and future development of the park. We support GACDC's effort to obtain Title II funds for park planning and will work with the community and our citizen's advisory committee to complete the plan, seek plan approval and implement the recommended actions.

Sincerely,

IN REPLY REFER

To whom it may concern:

I have discussed the matter of needing a master plan for the Cantrall Buckley site with Ms. Vivian McAlavey. Such a plan would serve to guide future management actions for the park in an orderly manner, ensuring that its use will continue to accommodate the needs of our rapidly growing area.

BLM land is adjacent to the park and contributes to its value by offering open space and hiking opportunities. Our office supports any planning efforts for these lands as they develop.

Sincerely,

Dear Board Members of GACDC

The ARWC enthusiastically supports your grant application for federal Title II funds for the "Cantrall-Buckley Park Master Plan" project. The park abuts the Applegate River, habitat for the ESA-listed SONCC coho salmon, and the candidate KMZ steelhead, and for chinook salmon. The park, as a recreation center, is potential locus for ignition starts for wildfire, and for potential human-caused erosion into the river. For all these reasons, we support the development of a master plan that would address these natural resources issues.

Sincerely

Daniel Newberry,
ARWC Coordinator

GACDC Overview

The Greater Applegate Community Development Corporation (GACDC), an Oregon 501 (c)3, was incorporated in 1998 by volunteers whose mission is to encourage and assist Applegate Watershed individuals and organizations to create and sustain the livability of our communities. The volunteer Board of Directors is comprised of community members from the five communities of Ruch, Applegate, Williams, Murphy and Wilderville, who are well positioned to speak and work on behalf of the needs of their communities. The GACDC provides an umbrella of services such as 501 (c)3 structure, technical assistance, administration, resource coordination, and other activities that facilitate project planning and implementation to retain the rural quality of life and provide for a sustainable, stable economic future in the face of fundamental changes in the social and economic fabric of our small communities.

Strategies for sustaining the positive aspects of the Applegate Valley in the face of the changing conditions were developed by valley residents and recorded in a document entitled the 1997 Applegate Valley Strategic Plan. Born from this strategic planning process, the GACDC is the goal tender, charged with enabling the implementation of the plan. The GACDC has worked hard to develop its capacity and implement outreach activities in order to serve existing community needs and to act proactively in addressing problems and issues as they arise.

GACDC activities and affiliates include Cantrall-Buckley Park (an 88-acre park on the Applegate River) and Applegate Wayside Access (supporting local management of a public access to the Applegate River). Pacifica (a botanical garden, educational facility, nature center), and Sugarloaf Learning Center (for home-schooling students to take classes to complement their studies) have also benefited from GACDC support. Current activities include: publishing an online directory designed to showcase local agricultural and cottage industry, developing and providing training and support for rural users of technology, updating a community needs assessment and continuing activities to train and develop the volunteer board and boards of other Applegate Watershed organizations such as the Applegate Valley Community Forum, Wilderville-Wonder Community Action Council, the Applegate Partnership and the Williams Town Council. All of these activities support our mission to serve existing affiliates and to be responsive to the needs of the communities in the Applegate Watershed.
